For Immediate Release (Aug 9, 2017 – 10:00 a.m.): An information meeting to provide an update on the Elephant Hill Wildfire will be livestreamed on Thursday, August 10, at 6 p.m. Viewers can watch this live broadcast from various locations that have been arranged or they can choose to watch the broadcast from their own location and device.

Anyone that does not wish to watch the meeting from their own device, can come to the following locations to view the livestream of the meeting:

- District of 100 Mile House Community Hall at 240 Third Street in 100 Mile House
- Sandman Reception Centre in Kamloops (for those staying in group lodging)
- Thompson-Nicola Regional District Civic Building at 465 Victoria Street in Kamloops
- Village of Cache Creek Council Chambers at 1389 Quartz Road in Cache Creek

For those wishing to watch the livestream from their location and device, the meeting will be livestreamed on the TNRD Facebook page. A recorded version of the event will also be available on the tnrd.ca website following the livestreamed event.

Over the past number of weeks during this wildfire event, the TNRD began livestreaming information meetings regarding the Elephant Hill fire. This has proven to be a very popular method of reaching the public with online viewership vastly outweighing in-person meeting attendance. Delivering the meeting through online livestreaming while also providing various locations for attendees to watch allows those that are impacted by the fire to access the information regardless of where they are currently located. Consistent with the previous livestreamed events, viewers will be able to pose questions to the presenters during the meeting.

Representatives from BC Wildfire Management Branch, RCMP, Interior Health and the Thompson-Nicola Regional District will be available to provide information and answer questions.
